

'Picnic' in 2nd Week at Stephens

The second week of the Stephens Playhouse production of "Picnic," the Pulitzer Prize play by William Inge, opens on Wednesday at 8:15 p.m.

The play stars Jack Rader, Stephens actor-in-residence, as the hometown hero-turned-tramp who arouses the feelings of a handful of women in a Kansas town. This week's production also stars Miss Lee Purcell, Stephens student from Paragould, Ark., as Madge, one of the women.

The play is directed by Hillis Williams, and costumes are by Miss Joyce Ravizza.
